As Founder & CEO of Core Matters, Ryan's passion and dedication for supporting small businesses evolved by watching his owner/operator father work 12-hour shifts, 6-7 days a week. All too familiar to Ryan are the sacrifices millions of entrepreneurs make because they don't have the right team in place. Resulting in the creation of a disruptive, proven solution: the Core Fit Hiring System.

An engaging, interactive speaker who thrives on audience participation, Ryan has a natural ability to captivate an audience - ensuring everyone in the room walks away with a practical, actionable approach that will change the way they do business, from hiring to retention, generating stronger results immediately.

Ryan seeks to empower these dedicated, hardworking business owners and leaders. He coaches them to think outside the box and address age-old problems by embracing new perspectives. The secret? Hiring the right people.

Speaking Topics

- ✓ How Fishing Taught Me to Recruit Better Employees
- ✓ Attracting & Hiring Rock Star Employees
- ✓ Authentic Interviewing
- ✓ Solving Your Employee Retention Issues

“You can have good people and bad systems, and fail. You can have good systems and bad people, and fail. You need both good people and good systems if you want results.” says Ryan Englin.

Since 2011, Ryan has been the CEO of Core Matters. His company focuses on the issues of high turnover or high growth, along with what businesses need to do to fill their open positions. And not simply fill them. Systematically fill them with quality people.
